EDITOR'S NOTE

The picture above shows how I feel right now. At the beginning of the week I received confirmation from Global Giving that my report for the Facebook Community Accelerator Program was accepted. The process is now concluded, and the funders are satisfied that we spent the money in a productive way. I am super excited about rolling out the result of the many months of work into the community as we launch our new online course and have the first Premier Viewing of our documentary on Zoom especially for our community members. We hope to get our documentary onto the film festival circuit to support wider distribution for our important message. The Accelerator was the foundational work that we are building on for the rest of the year. Thank you for coming on this exciting journey with me!

ADRIENNE BRUNTON

Hi, I am Adrienne Brunton, from a small seaside town called Orewa which is just north of Auckland, New Zealand.

I share my home with two of my four children, Toffee my Cavalon dog and his best friend Luna the 8 month old kitten. There is also Coco the Cockatiel and Bella the cat (who likes to intrude next door at every chance).

I am a Bespoke Clothing and Mixed Media artist.

My passion and total ethos for my practice is to create with mainly found and thrifted fabrics, notions and anything I need for my work. I use fabrics as my main source but love to work with teabags and coffee stained doilies, tablecloths and crochet tablecloths, buttons, zips, paints and so much more.

After making the most of small spaces, the edge of my bedroom, a mini office, spare bedroom and more over the years I have finally sold the TV and couch to create a lovely French Inspired studio where I spend every spare moment I have.

The video of my studio is on my Instagram and Facebook so take a look @Villa112.NZ

I only create OOAK (one of a kind), special, interesting and unique pieces. I can achieve this all because I thrift and upcycle quality preloved pieces of clothing and textiles. My happy place is Op Shopping (opportunity, thrifting) or at home designing something to share or sell. There are many hours spent collecting enough treasures before I can even contemplate starting a project... but totally worth the journey.

I make what the fabrics and trims feed my imagination. What the end product becomes is what I find in my extensive stash of mediums. Therefore each piece is very individual and bespoke. Some creations are completed in a seamless process and others take months to be finished. Its all about the process that excites me and feeds my soul.

I feel my clothing is for the wearer to feel empowered and confident, to love the story of the garment, the creation and bespoke design.

As for my mixed media, this comes in many different forms but currently I am working on books or albums made from old book covers, fabric pages and lots of notions or slow stitching which I find relaxing and enjoyable.

One I am currently working on, the cover is an old needlecraft book which I stained with walnut ink. I have then coffee dyed some old laces, trims and doilies and old tea towels to create the signatures to go inside. Each signature has 3 leaves so 6 pages. I have 4 signatures which will be filled to complete the album. This album is solely about antique sewing notions, decorative stitches and embellishments.

This provides me with a bit of free headspace to relax and just slow stitch whatever takes my fancy.

The second album I am working on is quite different. I have again found an old antiques book. This one I have removed many of the pages to allow for the additions of my creative works to fill the book. This album will take time and lots of handwork to create.

Slow stitching, research and recreation of some gorgeous parts of history. How our garments have changed from such structure to free flowing and so individual for the wearer. It will be an album of vintage corsets, mannequins and the history of them. I will also include articles on the different undergarments made in history, fabrics and notions, trims etc they used.

DAWN EDWARDS

My name is Dawn Edwards and I have been a feltmaker for almost twenty years. These have been some of the best years of my life, teaching, creating, traveling, and meeting and being inspired by talented fiber artists from around the world. I live in Southwest Michigan, just a short drive from beautiful Lake Michigan. We have four distinct seasons which provides for an ever-changing source of inspiration found in nature.

My favorite felt items to create are sculptural hats and vessels.

I find great joy in looking at items found in nature, whether that be flowers, shells, leaves, pinecones, and recreating a version of them in felt. I liken many of my felt hats to small sculptures, and find that they are actually quite wearable and fun to be worn, too.

You might think that tree fungus would be an odd thing to recreate in felt as a hat, but take a look at the hat shown on the next page, and you may nod your head in agreement with Van Gogh's quote, "If you truly love nature, you will find beauty everywhere." I love that through feltmaking, we are able to look at things in different ways and find beauty in the unexpected. This has been a gift to me.

I've heard it said that, "If you do what you love, you'll never work a day in your life.", and I have found this to be very true in feltmaking and I am thankful for this opportunity.

Dawn Edwards is a felt artist and tutor based in Plainwell, Michigan USA. She sells her work under the label 'Felt So Right' and teaches extensively within the USA and internationally. Her felt art has appeared in numerous exhibitions, shows, magazines and books, including...

Books

Ellen Bakker's Worldwide Colours of Felt

Magazines

Australian 'FELT' Magazine

Dawn's felt vessel, 'The Earth Beneath My Feet' (2022) and her 'Blue Coral' felt hat (2020) were both chosen as juried selections for FELT: Fiber Transformed in the magazine, 'Fiber Art Now'.

Journals

The International Feltmakers Association's Felt Matters

The HGA's Shuttle, Spindle & Dyepot

Dawn is the co-coordinator of the not-for-profit group, 'Felt United', which currently has over 7,500 members, with the goal of uniting feltmakers from all around the world.

RÉKA OROSZ

When I was little girl, I learned to sew very early. I used fabric left over from my grandmother's projects, or old unwanted shirts, skirts to make my dolls beautiful dresses. Then I made my first trousers at age 10. Since then, I make my own clothes. I always kept the left overs from anything I made, and designed patchwork pillowcases at the beginning.

Then I realized I can make summer dresses and ballgowns of discarded scarves, used dresses and stock fabrics from my friends grandmothers. I love to use every single little piece of material. Recycled fabric is a real treasure for me, which holds abundant opportunities to create something new of old things.

I was born in Hungary and learnt textile and design at university. I was working mostly for my friends during university. I participated many times in Budapest Fashion Week. Then I opened a little shop in Budapest.

Unfortunately I had to close it, then moved to London, England. I received invitations to many countries to showcase my designs. After a decade in London, both my kidneys have stopped working, and I moved back to my hometown.

Now in the final stage CKD, I go to dialysis three days a week. I'm happy again, because I can work, making clothing from old material.

It gives meaning to my life.

RENEE HUNT

I was born in New Zealand and it was there that I met my husband, Jim. We were married in 1991. We have two adult daughters. In 2008 we moved to the Gold Coast Australia to take on a new venture and experience living in another country.

We have two gorgeous female corgis, Elsie and Bonnie and a ginger cat, George.

One of my earliest memories has been looking on the sides of roads or countryside when going for a drive or walking along beaches or just the local neighborhood to find something that I can turn into something lovely, imaginative and unique.

In 2015 I trained as a florist and I remember my tutor saying to me that she loved my creativity to always think outside the box.

When COVID hit us three years ago, I started watching YouTube videos of women in America who also were creative and they would share their skills. So it was then that I started up-cycling home decor items and started selling them at markets.

However, I have always loved making quirky dolls. So after looking on Pinterest and getting lots of ideas, I came up with my 'shelf sitting' dolls made out of recycled clothing and accessories and hair. Their bodies are made from recycled kitchen board from RV's.

You will find me on Instagram @dandedolls

SUE LIGHTLEY

I'm from the UK but moved to Spain 18 years ago. We renovated an old farmhouse which is almost finished. I have a little farm with goats and George a miniature Shetland pony, pigs and a variety of poultry. I used to raise goats but had to stop. I now just have 7 as pets who I walk every day. That's when I do most of my embroideries. Denim is the best for me to work on as it's more durable.

A little known fact about me is that I have goat hoof print tattoos up one leg.

Everything I do is upcycled. My garden is full of upcycled stuff even my husband is 4th hand (we've been married 30 years). I used to have a goat page called Pickle and pals. It's still running but I don't post on it.

Thank you for joining us in this quest.

Hotel Hope Interiors accepts donations of secondhand couches that they re-upholster using curtains that are also donated to their organization. In this way they are also supporting artisans in their area while producing furniture that can be sold for a good price.

This couch stands in their Counselling Room and has served the organization for some years as a safe place for healing.

BEFORE...

AFTER!

BEFORE...

A vibrant, multi-colored floral armchair is the central focus, sitting on a circular metal manhole cover. The chair's fabric is covered in a dense, colorful pattern of pink, red, yellow, green, and blue flowers. The background shows an outdoor setting with a brick-paved ground, a wooden chair, and a building entrance with a checkered floor. A vertical decorative bar with a dashed line runs along the left edge of the image.

AFTER!

HERE ARE SOME TIPS FOR RE-UPHOLSTERING A COUCH

Here are some tips if you are thinking about re-upholstering a couch for yourself...

1. Start by carefully removing the existing upholstery. Use a seam ripper or small scissors to avoid damaging the fabric underneath.
2. Take detailed measurements of each piece of fabric you remove. This will help you determine how much new fabric you'll need.
3. Inspect the couch frame for any damage or loose joints. Repair or reinforce these areas before proceeding with the re-upholstering process.
4. Choose a durable and high-quality fabric that suits your style and the intended use of the couch. Consider factors like color, pattern, and texture.
5. Pre-wash or pre-shrink the fabric before cutting and sewing it. This will prevent any unwanted shrinking or color bleeding after the re-upholstering is complete.

6. Use a heavy-duty sewing machine and upholstery-grade thread to ensure strong and secure seams. Reinforce stress points with double stitching.

7. Consider adding extra padding or foam to areas that may need more support or comfort. This can enhance the overall feel of the re-upholstered couch.

8. Take your time when stretching and attaching the new fabric to the couch frame. Smooth out any wrinkles or creases to achieve a professional finish.

9. Use a staple gun or upholstery tacks to secure the fabric to the frame. Start from the center and work your way outwards, pulling the fabric taut as you go.

10. Finally, trim any excess fabric and neatly finish the edges with decorative trim or piping for a polished look.

Remember, re-upholstering a couch can be a challenging task, so don't hesitate to seek professional help if needed. Good luck with your project!

Would you like to alter your fabrics that you find in thrift stores using your own hand carved designs?

Send me an e-mail with the words in the heading "I want to print my own fabric with stamps" and I will send you a complimentary eBook about this method of printing on cloth.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS FOR RE-COVERING A LAMPSHADE

Here are ten top tips for recovering a lampshade:

1. Choose the right fabric: Select a fabric that complements the style and color scheme of your room. Consider the durability and light-transmitting properties of the fabric as well.
2. Measure the lampshade: Take accurate measurements of the height, top diameter, and bottom diameter of the lampshade to ensure you get the right amount of fabric.
3. Remove the old fabric: Carefully detach the existing fabric from the lampshade frame. You may need to use a seam ripper or scissors to carefully cut the stitches or glue holding it in place.
4. Clean the frame: Before attaching the new fabric, clean the lampshade frame to remove any dust or debris. You can use a soft cloth or a mild cleaning solution if necessary.

5. Prepare the new fabric: Lay out the new fabric and iron out any wrinkles or creases. This will make it easier to work with and ensure a smooth finish.

6. Cut the fabric: Use the measurements you took earlier to cut the new fabric to the appropriate size. Leave a little extra fabric on each side to allow for folding and attaching.

7. Attach the fabric: Apply fabric glue or use a hot glue gun to secure the fabric to the lampshade frame. Start at the seam and work your way around, smoothing out any wrinkles as you go.

8. Fold and trim excess fabric: Fold the excess fabric over the top and bottom edges of the lampshade frame, securing it with glue. Trim any excess fabric to create a neat and tidy finish.

9. Add decorative elements: If desired, you can embellish the lampshade with trims, ribbons, or other decorative elements. This can add a personal touch and enhance the overall look of the lampshade.

10. Allow it to dry: Once you've finished attaching the fabric and any additional decorations, allow the lampshade to dry completely before placing it back on the lamp.

You might experience challenges with getting the stitching tight and even so the lampshade does not end up with odd bumps that look strange.

How do you get the cut of the curve of each panel to fit just right when re-covering shaped lampshades?

Here are some ideas that you could try...

Cut the fabric on the bias not the straight grain.

Wrap in scraps and then drape and pin one panel at a time.

Work with fabric pieces that are larger than the panel that you want to make so you have room to shift and adjust as you work.

I hope these tips help you successfully recover your lampshade!

TEXTILE AND FIBER ART TEACHERS, WORKSHOPS AND CLASSES

We believe that teachers are the key to amplifying our message so we started a Group dedicated to teachers and their paid workshops.

While we understand that many members cannot afford paid workshops, many others can and our teachers deserve to be supported financially so they are in a position to pay their bills and keep teaching

Click through and join this Group to meet the finest textile and fiber art teachers from around the globe...

Our Admin Team gathers together in a Group where we chat about our Community Guidelines and train new Team members.

If you love our Group and you would like to volunteer to join our Admin Team, we would love to have you on board. You are welcome to join the Group and spend some time there to decide if the role is for you or not. We have a detailed playbook of Guidelines that we use so you have full support throughout your training from existing systems and structures that are already in place.
